Located in Morganton, North Carolina, U.S.A.

Administrative offices

Summitville Tiles, Inc., Summitville, Ohio U.S.A. announces the offer for sale of its Morganton, North Carolina, USA manufacturing facilities through its Exclusive Sales Agents, the Mohr Corporation. This modern 196,000 square foot facility was constructed new in the late 1980's as a glazed porcelain floor tile manufacturing facility with the latest state-of-the-art manufacturing machinery and equipment. Plant capacity is now approximately 190,000 square feet of tile per week with the one present standard production kiln now installed. There are provisions to accommodate an additional kiln, which with the existing equipment, would double production output.

The most modern tile facility in North America.

This plant can produce economically in the U.S.A.

SITI was the original prime contractor for machinery and equipment, most of which was manufactured in Italy. Present tooling is for 8"x 8", 12" x 12" and 16" x 16" tile sizes. Bodies are prepared with the spray drying process. The latest Rossi tile presses are installed. Glazing and firing is done in modern SITI-provided equipment and roller hearth kiln. All machinery is "world class" in make and model and is very late model.
